Monthly commentary

Prima Capital Fund returned a positive +1.41% in August, bringing its year-to-date performance to +5.23%. During the month, the S&P 500 rose +1.91% (+9.84% YTD), while the MSCI World Index returned +1.95% (+9.91% YTD).

In August, U.S. equities extended their rally, with the S&P 500 and Nasdaq hitting new record highs and the Russell 2000 surging +7.00%. The rally was supported by dovish Fed signals following a weak July jobs report and downward revisions to prior data. Trade policy also remained in focus, with President Trump reinstating tariffs on several countries but delaying action on China, while exemptions and bilateral deals eased uncertainty. Robust Q2 earnings further supported sentiment, with strong beats across sectors despite weakness in energy and materials.

At the underlying manager level, performance was broadly positive, with several funds contributing meaningfully while detractors were minimal.

In August, Prima Capital Fund's exposures were 89% Long and -30% Short, resulting in a Net Long position of +59%.

Fund information

The figures quoted in this document relate to past years. Past performance can be misleading and is not indicative of future results. All figures concerning the Fund reported in this document are net of all fees. All the classes of shares have the same fees: the management fee is 1.50% per annum; and the incentive fee is 10% of the net new profits with a High Water Mark system applied. The Fund's base currency is the USD. The share classes show different performances solely because of the systematic hedging of the foreign exchange risk on the non-USD share classes and the resulting impact on the High Water Mark applied to the performance fee.

(1) The Fund's inception is April 1, 1993. The fund's performance statistics contained in this document, with no indication of currency, date and time window, relate to Class A in USD net of all fees and begin at Fund's inception. Monthly data for the years 1993 to 2018 can be obtained upon request from the Fund's administrator or from the investment manager. The MSCI World (MSDLWI) market index is not the Fund's benchmark and is shown for informational purposes only.

(2) The Fund's Top 5 Holdings represents the five largest positions at the beginning of the following month.

(3) The Fund's Long & Short exposure is calculated based on the underlying funds' exposures obtained from the fund managers on a monthly basis.

(4) The classification of the underlying funds is made according to information received from the underlying fund managers concerning their investment strategies and the exposures of their portfolios in terms of geographical breakdown and sector breakdown.

(5) Geographic breakdown is made on a best effort basis on the information received from the underlying fund managers.

(6) Sector breakdown is based on files sent by the underlying fund managers to the SEC on a quarterly basis, along with any additional information received directly from the underlying fund managers.

(7) Standard deviation measures the average deviations of a return series from its mean.

Prospective investors should give careful consideration to certain risk factors in evaluating the merits and suitability of an investment in the Fund. The following does not purport to be a comprehensive summary of all of the risks associated with an investment in the Fund. Accordingly, the following are only certain risks to which the Fund is subject, and prospective investors are encouraged to consult their own legal, tax and financial advisors regarding the desirability of an investment in the Fund. Investors in the Fund are assumed to be sophisticated investors and to have sufficient knowledge and experience in financial and business matters to be capable of evaluating the merits and risks. A more complete list of potential risk factors is available in the Fund's Information Memorandum.

The Fund will invest primarily all of its available capital (other than capital the Investment Manager determines to retain in cash or cash equivalents) in hedge funds that trade and invest in securities and sell securities short. While most of these instruments trade in public markets, markets for such instruments in general are subject to fluctuations and the market value of any particular investment may be subject to substantial variation. Some securities in which the hedge funds invest may be thinly traded or may cease to be traded. In addition to being illiquid, some securities may be issued by unseasoned companies and may be highly speculative. No assurance can be given that the Fund's investment portfolio will generate any income or appreciate in value.

The Fund's Shareholders will have no opportunity to select or evaluate any hedge fund investments or allocations. All hedge fund investments and allocations will be determined by the Investment Manager. The likelihood that Shareholders will realize income or gain will depend on the skill and expertise of the Investment Manager in identifying successful hedge funds.

Redemptions are permitted on the last business day of each month (a "Redemption Day") subject to the prior receipt of a completed redemption request at least thirty-five calendar days prior to the relevant Redemption Day. If exceptionally the Fund receives more than thirty percent of the Fund's NAV in redemptions for any given Redemption Day, the Board of Directors has the right, if deemed in the investors' best interests, to postpone the redemptions, according to the Fund's Information Memorandum.

Payments will ordinarily be made within twelve Business Days after the determination of the Net Asset Value or as promptly thereafter as the Board consider feasible under the circumstances, without interest in the currency of the issue of the shares. The Net Asset Value of Preference Shares at the time of redemption may be more or less than the Shareholder's cost, depending on the market value of the Fund's investments at the time of the request for redemption.
